Myers, who resigned his commission in the United States army to become quartermaster general of the army of the Confederate states. Mr. Bryant is a graduate of the Virginia Military Institute and is prominent in social and business circles in Alexandria.

Morning and Afternoon Weddings.

Guests were present from Washington, Virginia and North Carolina. The bride was unattended, and was attired in a traveling gown. The ushers were Messrs. George Hopkins, A. R. Hopkins and S. S. Hopkins, brothers of the bride. Harry Demarest, immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moore left for a trip through New York city and the state. They will make their future home in Alexandria.

The marriage of Miss Kathryn Olivia Dodd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Y. Dodd of Fairfax county, and Mr. Louis Edmond Rector of Reston, Va., took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist Episcopal Church. The bride was escorted by Rev. Dr. J. W. Accidentally Shot.
Emmett Coffin, a young man whose home is at 1207 Duke street, is lying at the Alexandria Hospital, in a serious condition as the result of a gunshot wound received accidentally in his right arm while out hunting near Calverton, Fauquier county, yesterday afternoon. The gun, which Mr. Coffin was carrying was discharged in some unexpected manner and almost the whole charge tore through the muscles of his arm near the shoulder. The injured man suffered much from loss of blood before he was brought to this city later in the evening. He was conveyed to the Alexandria Hospital, where he was temporarily dressed. It was stated there this morning that it had not been decided whether or not an amputation would be necessary. Mr. Coffin has been living with his brother, Mr. Thomas Coffin, an engineer on the Southern railroad.

General Matters.
An effort has been made by counsel and friends of George W. Dix, charged with embezzling funds from Osceola Tribe, Independent Order of Red Men, to secure bond in the sum of $10,000 on his release on bail. It is understood that the attempt will be successful, and that the prisoner will be released this afternoon. Friends and members of the 17th Virginia Regiment, Chatham, Va., are preparing for the Confederacy, assembled in the Opera House last evening and listened to a sentimental and patriotic address by Ambrose Macdonald, an orator from the South. The speaker was presented by Mr. E. C. Graham of R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.
Verdict Rendered in Case of John Saint Clair.

A verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree was rendered by a jury in Criminal Court No. 1, late yesterday, in the case of John Saint Clair, colored, was charged with the murder of John J. Smith, white, on May 23, last, by deliberately shooting him in the head. The jurors consumed about half an hour in consultation before the verdict was framed. Under the code of law for the District of Columbia the punishment for murder in the first degree is death by hanging. Justice Anderson will pass sentence later. The conviction of Saint Clair seemed assured from the moment the crime was committed, for the reason that the shooting was witnessed by a woman in whose house it occurred, and the defendant had no one to testify in his behalf. When he was retained in the case Attorney R. R. Horner announced that the best that could be done was to endeavor to convince the jury that the killing was the element of premeditation.

ADDITIONAL LAND WANTED.
Condemnation Proceedings to Secure Ground Adjoining Fort Hunt.

The Secretary of War has sent to the Attorney General a request that condemnation proceedings be instituted to secure 100 acres of land adjoining Fort Hunt, Va., needed for military purposes. The owners of the land, it is said, refuse to dispose of it at a price which the department considers reasonable. Fort Hunt is one of the fortifications of the Potomac river, and is being erected for the defense of Washington.

"Brandishing of British Sabers."
From the Berlin Staatsbürger Zeitung.

The brandishing of British sabers will hardly frighten the Russian bear from the Afghan frontier, even if the very diplomatic action of Russia toward Afghanistan may only be looked upon as yet, as a sort of sham fight, whose purpose it is to distract the attention of England from Persia and Manchuria.

KICK PROVES FATAL

HORSE CAUSES THE DEATH OF LOUIS E. BROWN.

Animal Became Frightened and Attempted to Run Away—The Victim a Salesman.

Pedestrians on Pennsylvania avenue north-west between 9th and 10th streets witnessed a shocking accident about 10:30 o'clock this morning, which resulted in the almost instant death of Louis E. Brown from the kick of a horse. The animal's foot landed against the man's abdomen, and life was practically extinct when he was picked up. The victim of the accident was about thirty years old and lived at 1019 4 1/2 street southwest. He was employed as salesman and collector for George E. Crowell, wholesale confectioner, at 431 7th street southwest.

The unfortunate man left his employer's place of business this morning at the usual hour, and was on his regular route at the time the accident occurred. When in front of 919 Pennsylvania avenue the animal became frightened and attempted to run away. Brown held to the lines as well as could, to prevent an accident, realizing that a number of pedestrians might receive injury should the animal succeed in getting away. He had apparently conquered the horse, but the latter began kicking and jumping, and several persons started to the driver's assistance. Among them was Policeman Samson, and the officer reached the team just about the time the animal dealt the fatal kick. The dashboard was kicked from the wagon by the animal.

The fatally injured man fell from the seat of the wagon, and the policeman grabbed the horse and prevented further damage. A physician who happened to be near the scene of the accident was called to attend the victim. He found but little evidence of life in the body. The doctor remained with the man until the arrival of the ambulance from the Emergency Hospital, when Dr. Morhart took charge, and a hurry run was made to the hospital.

When the institution was reached the victim was dead and his body was removed to the hospital morgue. His employer and the coroner, and the latter made an investigation this afternoon. A certificate of accidental death will probably be given without the holding of an inquest.

DEMAND FOR DAMAGES.

Remuneration for Repairs to Building Vacated by School.

S. W. Augenstein of 1001 Pennsylvania avenue has presented a claim for damages to the board of education, covering the repairs he declares are needed in the Miller building at 623 and 625 H street northwest, recently vacated by the manual training school. The claimant says the first and second floors of the building were quite badly damaged by the engines, boilers, anvils and machines used by the pupils of the school. The board of education referred the matter to the Commissioners. The superintendent of repairs reports that he knows of no provision in the agreement between the District and its landlord as to leaving the building in its original condition. To make the repairs asked for would cost about $183.

The Commissioners have acted adversely upon the matter and will so inform the board of education. They do not believe the claim is an equitable one, basing their action upon the following report by Auditor Petty:

"The District of Columbia has had no formal lease since June 30, 1900, of the property known as 623 and 625 H street northwest. Its status has been that of a monthly tenant. The last written agreement, which expired June 30, 1900, expressly required that all repairs should be made by the lessor or at the lessor's expense, and unless the lease in terms so provides, the appropriation cannot be used for repairs to private property. It is apparent from this statement that the claim for compensation in the shape of repairs is without foundation in law. It is equally lacking also in equity, for the reason that the District has occupied the premises since 1882, and paid an exceedingly liberal rent therefor, the amount since 1884 being $1,300 per annum, which is about 12 per cent upon the assessed value of the property. In the light of all the facts I am of the opinion that the claimant is without legal or equitable recourse."

RENEWAL OF LICENSES.

Police Making the Customary Investigations Regarding Applications.

Policemen in the several precincts are engaged in making investigations and reports in the cases of the applicants for renewal of liquor licenses. As soon as the applications are received they are referred to patrolmen for investigation and report. Under the law it is not necessary for the applicants to obtain signatures each year, as was the case under the old law. There is one proper stipulation, a man of wealth, who always stipulates that his signature is for one year only, and in his case it is necessary to get the signature renewed each year.

It is incumbent upon the members of the police department to report upon the character of the applicant's place and to tell what, if any, trouble has occurred at his saloon, during the preceding year. The work of the police on the applications will be finished in a few days, and then the final work of the excise board will be in order. The reports of the patrolmen will be favorable to the applicants.

ANNIVERSARY OCCASION.

Semi-Centennial Celebration by Local Lodge of Masons.

The semi-centennial celebration of Washington Centennial Lodge, No. 14, F. A. A. M., took place at Masonic Temple last night. The main hall of the Temple was crowded with the members of Centennial Lodge, and visitors from other lodges. A program of music, recitation and song preceded refreshments and a dance. The hall presented a most attractive appearance, being decorated profusely with roses, chrysanthemums, palms, ferns and crimson-tinted autumn leaves. Over the center of the stage an electric illumination in blue and white flashed forth the name and insignia of the lodge.

Ten numbers were on the program, and each was endorsed by an enthusiastic and appreciative audience. The scene was a most attractive one. The address of welcome was made by Mr. John Speed Smith, worshipful master of the lodge. He recounted briefly some of the successes of the lodge and spoke of future plans. Miss Pauline L. Whitaker, Mr. D. W. McFarland, J. Walter Humphrey and Mrs. Hattie Smead-Smith contributed solos. The recitation of Mr. George W. Humphrey was heartily enjoyed, and vocal numbers were rendered by a quartet, consisting of Messrs. McFarland, Turpin, and Humphrey. Selections from James Whitcomb Riley were recited by Jeremiah Pittman, who closed with a humorous poem, "The Old Man and the Sea." The conclusion of the musical program the floor was cleared for dancing, which was indulged in until the morning hours.

Hard Coal on the Way Here.
Capt. Joseph H. Barker of the steamer Harry Randall, which arrived in port this morning from the river last night, the tug Sandow of Baltimore, with two barges of the American Towing Company laden with hard coal in tow. The barges are from Philadelphia and had been believed to be consigned to merchants here. These will be the first cargoes of hard coal to arrive here by river since early in the summer, before the coal strike began. They should bring from 700 to 800 tons of cargo in each boat.

Boyd's and Vicinity.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star.

BOYD'S, Md., November 18, 1902.

Mr. Paul Y. Waters of Washington Grove, this county, after graduating in law and stenography, received a position with the Chesapeake Beach railway as secretary to one of the officials, and has from time to time received minor promotions until recently he was made traffic manager of the system, vice A. H. Lewis, resigned. On the same date he was also made auditor, and upon the resignation of Mr. Otto Meers, president of that system, he was made virtually acting general manager, to take effect November 1, with headquarters in Washington. While Mr. S. T. Smith, the present president of the road, assumes the duties of general manager for the time being, all the routine reports and communications come through the hands of Mr. Waters for action. His father, Rev. Dr. Chas. H. Waters, is at present principal of the Fair View Seminary at Washington Grove, and was principal of Fair View Seminary for ten or twelve years at Dawsonville, four miles from Boyd's. Mr. Paul Waters has gained the confidence of the officials of the Chesapeake Beach railway. He is possessed of rare executive ability that makes his position with the road an easy one.

Mr. Vernon T. Lewis, formerly of Boyd's, but now living at Gaithersburg, who is a baggage-master on the Washington and Annapolis train, accidentally fell from his train near Rockville a few days ago and received painful bruises. Fortunately the train was running slowly and he was not badly hurt. He is a brother of Rev. Dr. W. H. Stone, pastor of the Boyd's and Darnestown Presbyterian Churches, and has been holding a series of revival meetings at Darnestown. He will hold a series of meetings in the church at Boyd's the latter part of the month.

Mr. Harry Franklin Powers, formerly of Gaithersburg, and a stepson of Mr. Geo. W. Crouse of that place, was quietly married at the home of his bride, Miss Mary Garrett, in Washington, Saturday evening last. There were only a few friends present. After the ceremony the bride and groom left for a trip north and will return to Gaithersburg for a visit.

Decline to Grant Request.

The District Commissioners have declined to grant the request of F. Stewart for permission to construct bay-windows on a building on H street northwest, between North Capitol and 1st streets, four feet beyond the building line. The proposed projection would exceed any of the kind authorized in the past five years, and would not conform with the schedule of projections as applied to H street, which acquire fifteen feet space between the projection and the curb line.

Organ Recital Tonight.

Ernest T. Winchester will give the first of a series of free organ recitals tonight in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, 23d street and Washington Circle.

A fine program has been arranged, consisting of works from Bach, Handel, Buck, Wolfenholme, Gullmunt, Rossini, West and Mendelssohn. Mr. S. Percy Thompson will be the vocal soloist, and Master Frank Dunkin, a nine-year-old prodigy, will play an organ solo.

Methods of Modern Charity.

The members of the Anthropological Society listened last evening at their meeting in the assembly hall of the Cosmos Club to an account of methods of modern charity as exemplified in the work of the Associated Charities. Mr. Chas. F. Weller, the general secretary, and Dr. Geo. M. Kober, one of the medical advisers, were the speakers.

A number of stereopticon slides were shown by Mr. Weller, giving an idea of the work in this and in other cities.

Permit to String Wires.

The Commissioners have authorized the Potomac Electric Power Company to string wires for electric lighting purposes in the following localities: Albemarle street, between Connecticut avenue and Grant road; Benning road, from the last lamp to Central avenue; Anacostia road, from Benning road to the District line; Anacostia road, from Benning road to Pennsylvania avenue; Connecticut avenue, from Rock Creek bridge to Cathedral avenue; Benning road, from 18th street to Anacostia road; Seaton street, between 6th and 7th streets northeast; V street, between 3d and 4th streets northeast; 4th street, between V street and Central avenue.

Benefit of Charity.

A charity entertainment was given in McCauley's Hall last evening under the direction of Mrs. John C. Haley. The program included: Mr. C. S. Haden, mandolin solo; Mrs. Della Chaney, recitation; Master Elmer Dunn, dances; Mrs. Arthur Dunn, soprano solo; Mr. Robert Maxwell and Miss Bullock, musical comedy, entitled "Love's Old Sweet Song"; Mrs. Elsenbels, contralto solo; Mrs. Simpson, recitation; Mr. Arthur Middleton, bass solo; Miss Jones, recitation; Mr. W. D. McFarland, tenor solo. A large and appreciative audience was present.

Scarcity of Barrels.

From the New York Tribune.

In some parts of the country apples are cheap, while barrels are so high priced that the raisers of that wholesome and palatable fruit let it rot in the orchards because there is no profit in shipping it. The time will come when the cost of wooden barrels, with the diminution of the supplies of wood, will rise to such figures that substitutes of some sort will be required in many trades and fields of production.
